

continued: From Our Rabbi

Arguably, this story could just be a legend, however, the idea is echoed directly in the Talmud (Ta'anit 30b): "Whoever mourns for Jerusalem will merit seeing its joy." Our crying is not just over the absence of a particular building. We continue to cry out in proclamation that this world is still not yet ideal. There are still things out of order and missing from the beauty and perfection we know to be around the corner of time. The movement of these Jewish dates goes from a deep sorrow and mourning, lasting three weeks, turning, almost immediately, into a time of sheer joy and celebration.

Rabbi Aaron David Borak (1892-1961) wrote: "When I was in Jerusalem in 1927, we were lucky to be at the Kotel/Western Wall on Tisha B'Av, the place of the Temple, we saw water dripping from the wall and we were awed. The Maskilim (enlightened pragmatic Jews) said it was because of the tremors of the earthquake on the 4th of Av and from that a streamlet of water opened in the Kotel, however the Hasidim and the Sephardim who were reciting Laments at the wall started dancing and singing, saying: 'the wall is crying and Israel is crying and G-d is crying.' It is a good sign that G-d want to redeem his children, as is found in the Midrash that when Jacob sits and cries, and Joseph sits and cries, and Yisrael cries, G-d sits and creates the Light of the Messiah.

Crying is a continuous protest, demonstrating our refusal to conform and accept the imperfections and deficiencies, still, within our world. Humanity, still, has fissures to mend and repair. Nonetheless, the Jewish calendar reveals an awareness that regardless of the length of our mourning period, the joy of redemption can and will happen momentarily. The Talmud Makkot (24b) ends with the story of Rabbi Akiva laughing at the site of a fox roaming around the destroyed remains of the Beit HaMikdash/Holy Temple. The Sages, with tears in their eyes, ask him: "Akiva, why are you laughing?" His response: "Why are you weeping?" The Sages say: "We see a place so sacred...is now desecrated by a fox parading there...so how can we not cry "For that very reason," explained Rabbi Akiva, "I laugh with joy. The prophecy of Uriah regarding the destruction and exile concludes with Har Habayit/The Temple Mount turning into a jungle. Until that came true, I dared not yet look forward to the fulfillment of the prophecy of Zecharia regarding redemption. Now that I see that fox, I realize the first prophecy has been fulfilled and I can begin to look forward to the fulfillment of the second."

Our crying and praying and efforts to bring beauty into this world will not quit until we win. The vision and promise of hope and expectation drive us forward towards a Divine goal. One day, soon, we WILL have lasting and permanent peace, love WILL bind all people, and every day WILL be like Tu B'Av - a celebration of all, for all! Amen!

OUR MISSION STATEMENT

Temple B'nai Jacob of Wellington is a Conservative, egalitarian synagogue serving the Western communities of Palm Beach County. Temple B'nai Jacob seeks to inspire each member to become more deeply connected to his or her Jewish identity by providing relevant worship experiences, life-long educational experiences, opportunities for social action, and a connection to Jewish culture. We are a diverse and multi-generational congregation committed to serving as a center for contemporary Jewish life.

Message from our President

Well it's summer and at Temple B'nai Jacob many of you are going on vacation. Jewish Holidays are also on vacation. In July and August, normally we would start to get ready for the High Holidays. This year Rosh Hashana doesn't begin until the first week of October, so the September-October VOICE newsletter will be jammed packed with information for everyone.

As I started thinking about what to write, I remembered that I once read that summer vacations reduce stress, boost brain power and creativity, improve sleep, blah blah blah. When I think of summer vacation, it reminds me of school, camp, and travel. I'm not sure it reduced stress and boosted my brain power, but I'll take the experts' word for it. As a member of the retired community in South Florida, summer vacation is just two ordinary words. However, I feel that I still travel more in the summer than I do in other seasons. Maybe I just want to get out of the hot weather? I'm told that sunlight helps the body produce serotonin, a hormone that regulates our moods. It makes sense then that kids are physically predisposed to be in better moods during the summer. In addition, spending time outside can help improve overall physical health which is closely linked to better mental health. In South Florida, I wonder what spending a lot time in air conditioning does to mental health.

You might wonder how I connect this article with Jewishness. This year's "Summer Solstice" was on June 20th, the longest day of the year. Jews have not traditionally had a summer solstice ritual per se, but Medieval European Jews marked the summer solstice by not drawing water, because they believed that water might be affected by the "eerie power" of the day. When I looked up the definition of what "drawing water" means I saw that it refers to the "act of extracting or collecting water from a source such as a well, tap, or natural body of water." It can involve using various tools or methods, such as a pump, bucket, or faucet, to obtain the water for purposes such as drinking, cleaning, or irrigation. Now, I don't believe that not drinking water is a good thing. After all, the weather in South Florida is above 90+ degrees in the summer. A number of biblical events in Jewish legend actually happened during the summer solstice, including the expulsion from Eden and the moment when Moses struck the rock to get water for the Jewish people. Miriam's expulsion from the camp and her seven days in the desert also took place around this time.

OK, I know this was a stretch, but to all our friends and family of Temple B'nai Jacob, I wish a great summer vacation and lots of water to drink!!

Morry Silverman, President

A Prayer for Israel in this Time of War

God, our Strength and Protection, we pray for the State of Israel in this devastating time of war, shock and grief. Our hearts are breaking, God. We pray for the lives of the innocent civilians who have been heartlessly kidnapped by Hamas, bring them home, watch over them, God. We pray for the lives of the soldiers who have been taken captive, we pray for their safe return, shelter them, God. We pray for the souls of the innocent victims who were brutally slaughtered. Send comfort and strength, God, to the grieving. Send healing to the injured, and strength and wisdom to their doctors and nurses. We pray for all our brothers and sisters in Israel in this time of tragedy and crisis.

Watch over Israel, God, spread Your shelter of peace over the land and over all our brothers and sisters who live there. Shine Your light upon Israel's leaders, officers and advisers, innocent blood is calling out to them to overcome all divisiveness and to act with clarity and determination. Protect the men and women who defend Israel, let them be safe and may they be victorious over the Hamas terrorists who attacked our people. Watch over them, God. Hear their prayers. Bring peace, God. Let it rain down from the heavens like a mighty storm. Let it wash away all hatred and bloodshed.

Peace, God, please, God.

God of the brokenhearted, God of the living, God of the dead, gather the souls of the victims into Your eternal shelter. Let them find peace in Your presence, God. Their lives have ended, but their lights can never be extinguished. May they shine on us always and illuminate our way.

Amen

Am Yisrael Chai

עם ישראל חי

The people of Israel live

We strive to make a significant impact through scholarships and programs that benefit students at The Jewish Theological Seminary, Ziegler School of Rabbinic Studies, Schechter Institutes, Seminario Rabinico Latinoamericano and Zacharias Frankel College.

Thanks to the generosity of our donors, we help committed Jewish students become the rabbis, cantors, educators, synagogue administrators, social workers, scholars, researchers and lay leaders of tomorrow.

When you support Torah Fund, you help educate students in New York, Los Angeles, Israel, Latin America and Europe—and you align with those who value learning, knowledge and providing the future generation with relevant skills to fortify the Jewish people.

Visit www.jtsa.edu/torah-fund

Am Yisrael Chai is an expression of Jewish solidarity for the Jewish nation and the continuity of the Jewish people. We help ensure the future of worldwide Jewish communities through our support of the five Conservative/Masorti institutions of higher education.
